

Koh Chang is a perfect hideaway for nature lovers. The largest in a group of 47 islands belonging to the Koh Chang National Marine Park, Koh Chang is acclaimed for its pristine rain forests and stunning marine life. Lush, green and mountainous, the island has a multitude of natural treasures which visitors can explore.

Apart from taking advantage of the soft white sand beaches, more adventurous guests can enjoy hiking in the rain forests, elephant trekking, fishing, sailing, snorkeling and diving. Day trips to the surrounding islands can easily be arranged and there are two multi-level waterfalls with refreshing pools to swim in.

Once a traditional fishing village, Bang Bao is both a fascinating place to get an insight into the island's fishing community and a fun place to explore local shops and seafood restaurants. The buildings are raised above the water on wooden stilts and many of the local fishing vessels are anchored nearby.

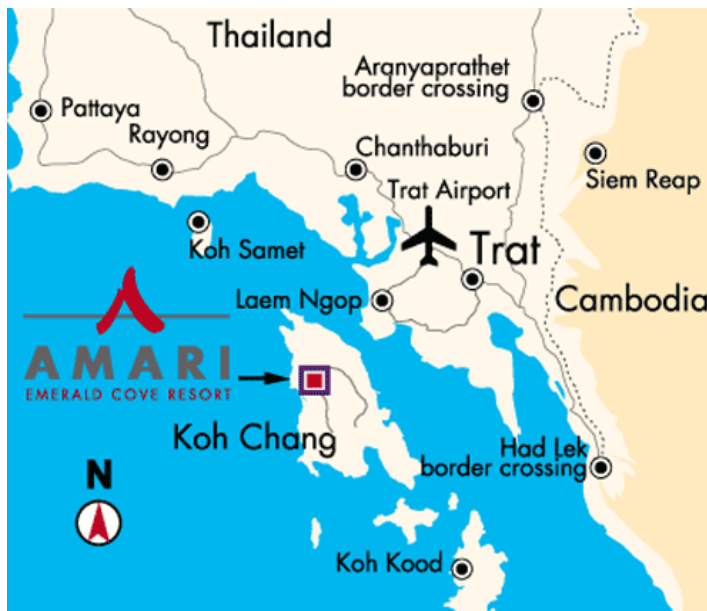

The Amari Emerald Cove Resort is located on the secluded Klong Prao Beach.

All 165 superior, deluxe rooms and suites have beautiful solid wood furniture and reflect modern Thai design influences. They feature panoramic views of the cove or nearby mountains. Features of the room include:

- Stylishly designed solid wood furniture
- Colour television with remote control
- Private bathroom with bath and separate shower
- Personal safe
- Mini bar
- Air conditioning with individual control
- Private balcony

Location

Koh Chang is one of Thailand's hidden secrets and has now become much easier to visit. Located 315 kilometers south east of Bangkok, what was once only accessible by a 4 hour drive from Bangkok, is now only an hours flight from Bangkok owing to the new airport in Trat province.

Koh Chang still has 75 percent of its rainforest undisturbed and the idyllic beaches, stunning waterfalls and tropical rainforests provide a haven in which wildlife thrives. The clear blue waters and coral reefs of both Koh Chang and the other nearby islands, are perfect for both snorkeling and diving enthusiasts.
