

The Paradise', a subtle blend of Boutique Beach Resort & Spa

Thailand's Phang Nga Bay, an emerging hidden treasure, remains one of the world's best kept secrets. A geological wonderland teeming with indigenous plant and animal life, it has captured the imagination of the world. Set into the heart of these natural phenomena is Koh Yao Island, peopled by visionary islanders who were recently awarded the 'National Geographic Home Stay Award'

In particular the bungalows are mostly open, turning the living room in to an open, covered seating area. Only the bed rooms are provided with air-condition. Bathrooms are semi-outdoor for the touch of nature feeling.
