

White sand beaches, virgin tropical rain forests, incredible caves and waterfalls and provincial town charm, make Trang Province one of Thailand's best kept secrets. Seldom visited by tourists, the region has remained largely unchanged for centuries and the character of the province is charmingly un-commercial, giving visitors an insight into the real Thailand.

Whilst the region is in the remote south west of Thailand, it is only just over an hour's flight from Bangkok. However, the seeming inaccessibility means that Trang still offers spectacular, unspoilt natural beauty. Blending perfectly with the unspoilt and pristine environment, the Amari Trang Beach Resort is an elegant low rise property with 138 sea facing rooms offering every amenity and comfort.

Offshore, dozens of almost deserted islands with white sand beaches and turquoise waters are just waiting to be explored. The resort has an exclusive private day resort on one of the most beautiful, Koh Kradan . A regular speed boat shuttle service enables guests to enjoy this stunning tropical island.

Inland, rugged limestone cliffs with dramatic waterfalls and caves, virgin rain forests and vast rubber plantations invite visitors.

In addition, the newly opened Sivara Spa makes sure that you can really relax and spoil yourself.

The Amari Trang Beach Resort has its very own exclusive day resort on the enchanting tropical island of Koh Kradan.

The resort's Beach Club is on a white sand beach, whose turquoise tropical waters are perfect for swimming.

There are shuttle boats for the island daily for those who want to just relax and take it easy in this tropical paradise. Alternatively, the resort operates island day trips which stop on Koh Kradan for lunch.

In addition to the restaurant, facilities at the Beach Club include showers and toilets. There are also windsurfs, Kayaks and a hobie cat available for hire.

Recreation

Guests who intend to do nothing more than "just relax" may well find themselves tempted to do just the opposite. Compact, beautiful and easily accessible, Trang province contains a huge selection of sightseeing and special interest pleasures which can be enjoyed by organised tours, rental car, boat, bike, or on foot. Aside the immense appeal of the many "Robinson Crusoe" islands, the area offers a wealth of attractions in its alluring mix of high mountains, interesting caves, glittering temples, local traditions, colourful festivals, sporting opportunities, marine, bird and animal life, plus much botanical and geological interest.

The deep south is uniquely different. With its own dialect, traditions and customs, this part of Thailand provides the visitor with a new perspective, a quite different flavour, an altogether refreshing and appealing travel experience. Largely bypassed by international tourism, Trang retains that lovely feeling of "discovery" so often lost in other resorts. The little town is charming and friendly. Bustling markets spill over with goods. Local handicrafts are well made, attractive, and make excellent gifts. Numerous annual festivals bring excitement, colour, and fascination.

Trang is one of Thailand's most beautiful regions, It is located just over an hour's flight from Bangkok., 828 kms from Bangkok, 312 kms from Phuket, 131 kms from Krabi, and 305 kms from Sungai-Golok (Malaysian border) Amari Trang Resort is located on Chang Lang beach, approximately 42 kilometres from Trang town, and 45 kilometres from the airport. It forms part of the Hat Chao Mai National Park which covers the coastal area, and numerous fairy tale islands offshore. The soft white sand stretches for kilometres, and a leisurely stroll along the water's edge at dawn or dusk is a truly delightful experience. The Trang region is home to some of the finest beaches in Asia, many of them hidden on the islands, stunningly beautiful, and very often completely deserted.
